

TYLER NASH

Competitions officer
Debate SOC

Who am I?

Hi there, I'm Tyler ... Im a first year politics student looking to become your new competitions officer! I've done competitive debating for the past 6 years, have competed at over 60 debating competitions and was part of Team England development squad (final 10 selectants) in 2020 where I was placed as the first reserve.

Why should you vote for me as Competitions officer?

In order to answer this lets look at what the competitions officer has to do and why I would be the best candidate for the role....

Competitions officer must train you in BP format

I would be good for this because I have training experience. I taught debating at both a primary school and sixth-form during my time at A-levels meaning I know what approaches to take to get you guys to preform to the best level!

... to back this my sixth-form squad which I trained went from bottom of the Urban debate league in 2019 to the second best team in 2020

I have had Team England training along with multiple years of weekly training which I can adapt into our weekly sessions whilst keeping debating fun and engaging!

Sending you guys to competitions

Whilst training is fun and all, the best part of my debating career was going to competitions with my Squad, meeting amazing and shambolic people and just having a good time no matter if we ended up in the finals or not

In understanding this I want to get you guys to compete at as many comps as possible!

I think I can do this the best because with my years of experience I have gained an excessive network of UK and international debaters and I know what the best competitions are to get the best feedback and help you grow as a debater

PLUS A SPECIAL BONUS! If I make competitions officer, I intend on the first CO to send leed's to the European debating championships and/or the World debating championships which will be a n amazing experience in a different country (which means a fun holiday too ;))

Engaging new debaters:

I plan on working with the social sec to engage new debaters in fun debating games such as Drunk debating, Backwards debating and other fun games!
