

Maddy For Polo Vice Captain

About me:

I am currently in my first year at uni studying economics (ew), so only being second year next year should give me plenty of time for role as Vice-Captain (polo is priority).

Plans for polo next year:

We will CRUSH the opposition

As we currently have such a strong team, performing so well in all our BUCS matches this year (and hopefully moving up a division), I'm very confident that next year will be our year to shine.

I plan on organising lots of friendlies, and for our second team, hopefully with a social aspect as well (show the other unis why Leeds swp is evidently better than them).

I also plan on working closely with the captain to organise training sessions and help accommodate players of all abilities, and also run sessions if needed.

As last year's Christie Cup winners, we are hoping to keep this streak up this year (WE HATE MANNY)

If you've never played polo before WE WANT YOU, a lot of our team is made up of players who before uni had never played before, and I have experience in helping players that are new to polo, so we aim to recruit as many of you as possible.

Why you should vote for me:

I have been playing polo since I was a child (literally), and although I may not be the best player, after all those years I have developed a v good knowledge of the game.

Have played polo inter-regionals, national league, and NAGS for various teams over the years so I have a LOT of match experience.

I like to think I am organised and am very willing to take on the responsibility of vice-captain in order to make our team the best it can be.

I come from a family of polo players, so usually my weekends at home consist of spectating multiple polo matches and tournaments (I've literally seen more matches than I've had hot dinners ☺)
