

VOTE ANNA & JOSH

for President & Vice-President

We're here to make MedSoc more connected, more fun, and more supportive for everyone.

Some of our many ideas...

- More events for everyone – from themed nights to relaxed academic (or not) socials.
- A big end-of-year (summer) celebration to bring all years together before placements and holidays – including a potential weekend away for some much-needed relaxation.
- More MedSoc-led initiatives to support causes we care about, with a creative and engaging twist – think charity challenges involving everyone, not just the committee.
- Stronger peer support across year groups – making it easier to connect, share advice, and settle in.
- Tailored events for clinical students to help with networking with other years and stress-relief socials.

Why Us?

Anna - If MedSoc were a person, we'd be in a long-term relationship (it's been love since freshers). I've been obsessed since freshers and now I hope to be the unofficial events machine: I bring the ideas, the energy, and the to-do lists – Josh carries the tables. Whether it's a wholesome movie night or a chaotic bar crawl, I'm here to make sure every event feels like the main event. If MedSoc had a mascot, it'd probably be me... loudly squawking the next social from someone's shoulder.

Josh - The Robin to Anna's Batman (just with longer legs and an obsession with rowing). I've been all-in with MedSoc since day one – whether it's showing up early to set up events, staying late to pack down, or quietly keeping things running in the background. Sure, I might talk about rowing a little too much and I may or may not have been spotted on a certain night out... but at the end of the day, I'm here because I genuinely love this community. Vote Josh for a VP who's as dedicated to MedSoc as he is to a 6am erg.
