

Hi everyone, My name is Erin and I am going to be a third year economics student next year, and I would love to be one of Leeds modern social secs too;)

Being a part of Leeds modern has definitely been the best part of my second year at uni, I have loved every second of classes, being on the comp teams and especially the socials. Although I was in the society in my first year, I think anyone that was here then can agree that last year was horrendous, and I didn't actually meet anyone from dance then. The socials in my second year have definitely helped me make some great dance friends and I would love to have the opportunity next year to create socials that mean I can meet loads of new people and also help people feel more comfortable within the society and make loads of dance friends.

I can quite easily say I LOVE mischief and have loads of fun with the themes, although I definitely don't remember several of the end of mischief nights, and struggle to understand how it is suddenly lights up and I'm still having a good old boogie with Ella;) My aim for next year would be to continue with some smashing revs and mischief nights but also try some new things to spice things up a little bit (because 1 social every fortnight is nowhere near enough dance fun). I would want to incorporate some fun Otley runs, pub golf, treasure hunts and also some more sober socials. I don't know about anyone else but seeing Ballet go to ninja warrior adventure made me very jealous and I absolutely have to do this because it has been my lifelong dream to have a go on the Big Red Balls (don't interpret that in the wrong way). I am determined to come up with some real whacky (but easily and cheaply done with plenty of notice) themes for mischief nights so modern really stands out and becomes THE society that everyone wants to join purely because of how funky we look and how much fun we are having everywhere we go. As well as having lots of fun I aim to make sure everyone feels safe and comfortable at the socials

I loved hosting the comp team for pres in mine and Ella's hotel room in Newcastle, as short and sweet as it was, and would love the opportunity to do more social activities to really get to know more people within the society because everyone I have met so far has just been so lovely and so much fun to spend time with, that meeting more can only be better! I will also make socials with other societies, through current friends to increase opportunity to meet more people.

Dance love, Erin xx
